

C. Faculty Rank and Credentials

Updated February 2014, August 2016, March 2017

Mount St. Joseph University ensures academic integrity in part by establishing policies for academic credentials of all faculty members whose primary responsibility is teaching, including full-time, part-time, adjuncts, dual-credit and temporary instructors. The required credentials for instructors in all programs and courses are established by program directors and department chairs and are in keeping with guidelines set by the Higher Learning Commission. The criteria are reviewed by the Deans of each school who are responsible for verifying that hiring practice are consistent with the established criteria.

1. Administrative Faculty

The persons holding the positions of President and Provost may belong to the Administrative Faculty by virtue of their positions. Their academic credentials may also qualify them for rank among the Teaching Faculty. If so, the President and/or the Provost will determine the rank and make the appointment with the concurrence of the appropriate academic department.

2. Teaching Faculty

The Mount has two teaching faculty tracks: tenure and professional. Full-time faculty members at the time of appointments are assigned to either the traditional tenure track, the professional track or issued a term contract. Faculty may negotiate with the Provost for a change to professional track or a tenure track appointment at any time other than when they have been denied tenure. Faculty may change tracks only once with the Provost's approval.

Ranks held by the full-time and pro-rata Tenure Track Teaching Faculty are Instructor, Assistant Professor, Associate Professor, and Professor.

a. Term Contract

1. Initial appointment at the rank of Instructor requires that the person hold a master's degree in the appropriate discipline from a regionally accredited institution or have accomplishments that are judged to be equivalent. An Instructor who is pursuing a terminal degree will, at the completion of that degree, be given the rank of Assistant Professor by the Provost.

b. Tenure Track

1. For initial appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor, it is necessary that the individual hold an earned doctorate, or an alternative terminal degree, in the appropriate discipline and from a regionally accredited institution, or be able to complete the degree before the pre-tenure review in the third year.
2. In order for a person to be granted the rank of Associate Professor at first appointment, he or she must have the following:

Employee Handbook

- a. an earned doctorate, or an alternative terminal degree, in the appropriate discipline and from a regionally accredited institution
  - b. held the rank of Associate Professor if moving from another college or university
  - c. a minimum of six years of full-time teaching experience
  - d. demonstrated a combination of effective teaching, established scholarship, and citizenship
3. Initial appointment at the rank of Professor requires the credentials for an Associate Professor, except that the rank at a previous institution would have been as Professor and the teaching experience a minimum of nine years. In addition, one would be expected to have established a national reputation in his/her field.
- c. Professional Track: Market driven factors necessitate that we have the option to hire professionally qualified, non-doctoral faculty where such faculty are in the best interest of the School and the University. The professional track allows faculty within the schools of Business and Health Sciences, who have a graduate degree and specific expertise, the possibility of multi-year contracts and promotions in rank as articulated in Section III-G. 2. B. 1-3. Professional faculty should serve at least 3 years at each level before applying for promotion during the 4th year at that level. Criteria for promotion are the same as tenure track for professional competence and academic citizenship, but scholarship requirements will differ to reflect the professional practice emphasis. Faculty appointments to the professional track are recommended by the School Dean to the Provost. Professional Track appointments are based on criteria regarding educational, experiential, and professional qualifications of the accreditation criteria of each professional program. In addition, no more than 40% of faculty in the school of Business or any Health Science program can be in the professional track. An exception to the above is any program during its developmental period.
