

To have Blackboard provide the quiz answers to your students after the deadline you will need to follow the example below.

Example:

You would like students to take Quiz 1 during the following time frame August 1, 2011 (midnight) to August 7, 2011 (end of day). In addition, you would like students to have

1. 1 quiz attempt
2. 30 minutes to take the quiz
3. Force completion, so students don't have the option to save their quiz and come back to their attempt at a later time

Your settings for this quiz will look like:

2. Test Availability

In addition, during the quiz availability you do not want to provide students with any feedback after they submit the quiz to prevent them from telling other students about the quiz before they take the quiz. If you do not want students to see their score until after the deadline make sure to hide the quiz from users within the grade center.

It is now August 8th and you want to provide students with quiz feedback.

1. Open up the full grade center and make the Quiz 1 column available to users by clicking on the chevron  to the right of Quiz 1.
2. For students who did not take the quiz enter in a "0" for their score. This will eliminate students from submitting the quiz after the deadline. (Note: The only way at this time to prevent students from taking the quiz after the deadline is to set the availability settings)
3. Click on the chevron  next to Quiz 1 and select "Edit Test Options"
4. Unselect the "Display Until" setting
